

Professor Dame Ann Dowling OM DBE FREng FRS, President, Royal Academy of Engineering

Building better research relationships between industry and academia

*China-UK Symposium on Innovation-driven Development with Business-University Collaboration
4 July 2016*

Landscape

Reviews

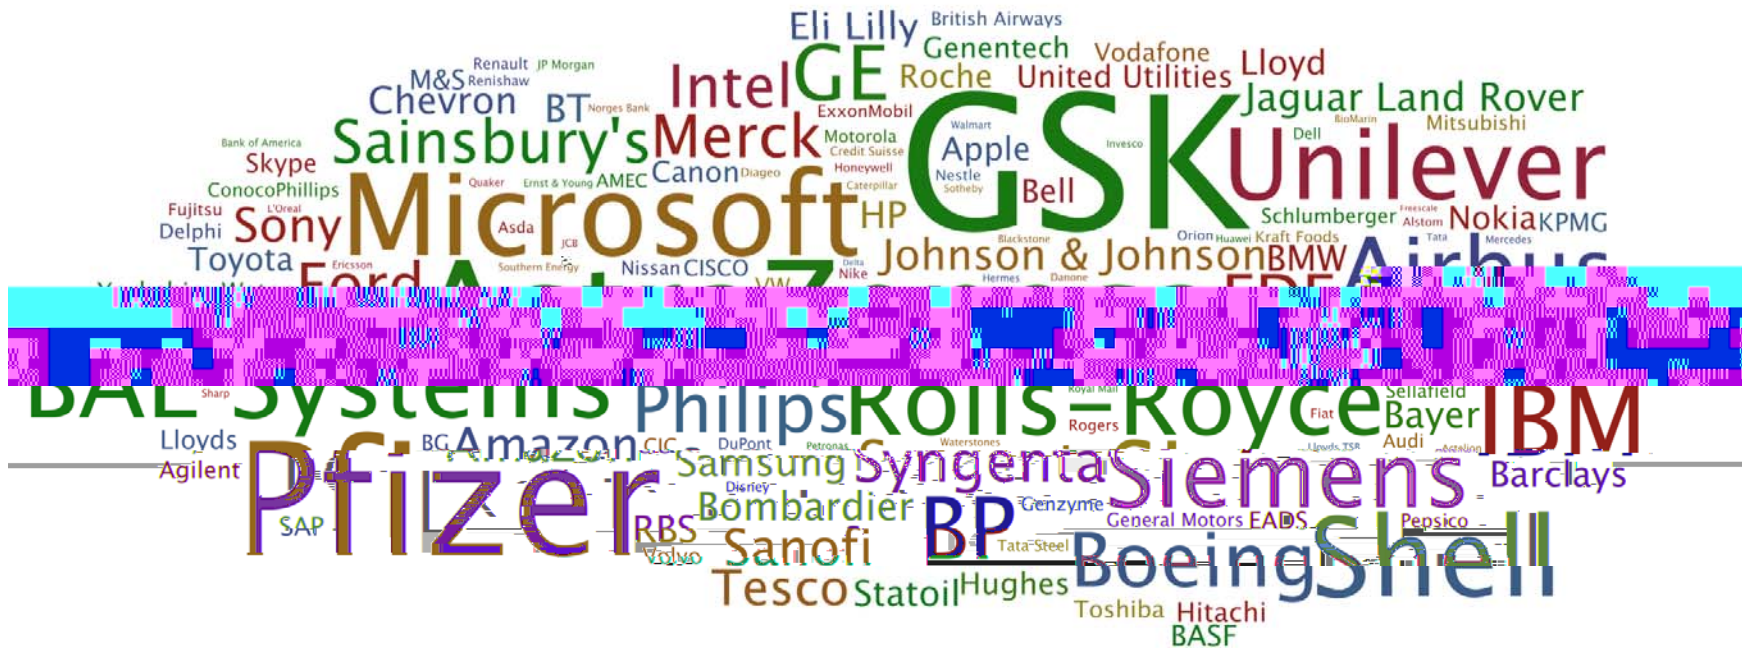

Political Response

“Fostering greater collaboration between businesses and universities will provide the new technology and higher-level skills that are vital to raising our productivity. I want to thank Dame Ann for producing this important report. We will consider the recommendations very carefully to ensure we make Britain the best place to innovate, patent new ideas and set up a business.”

Universities and Science Minister Jo Johnson MP

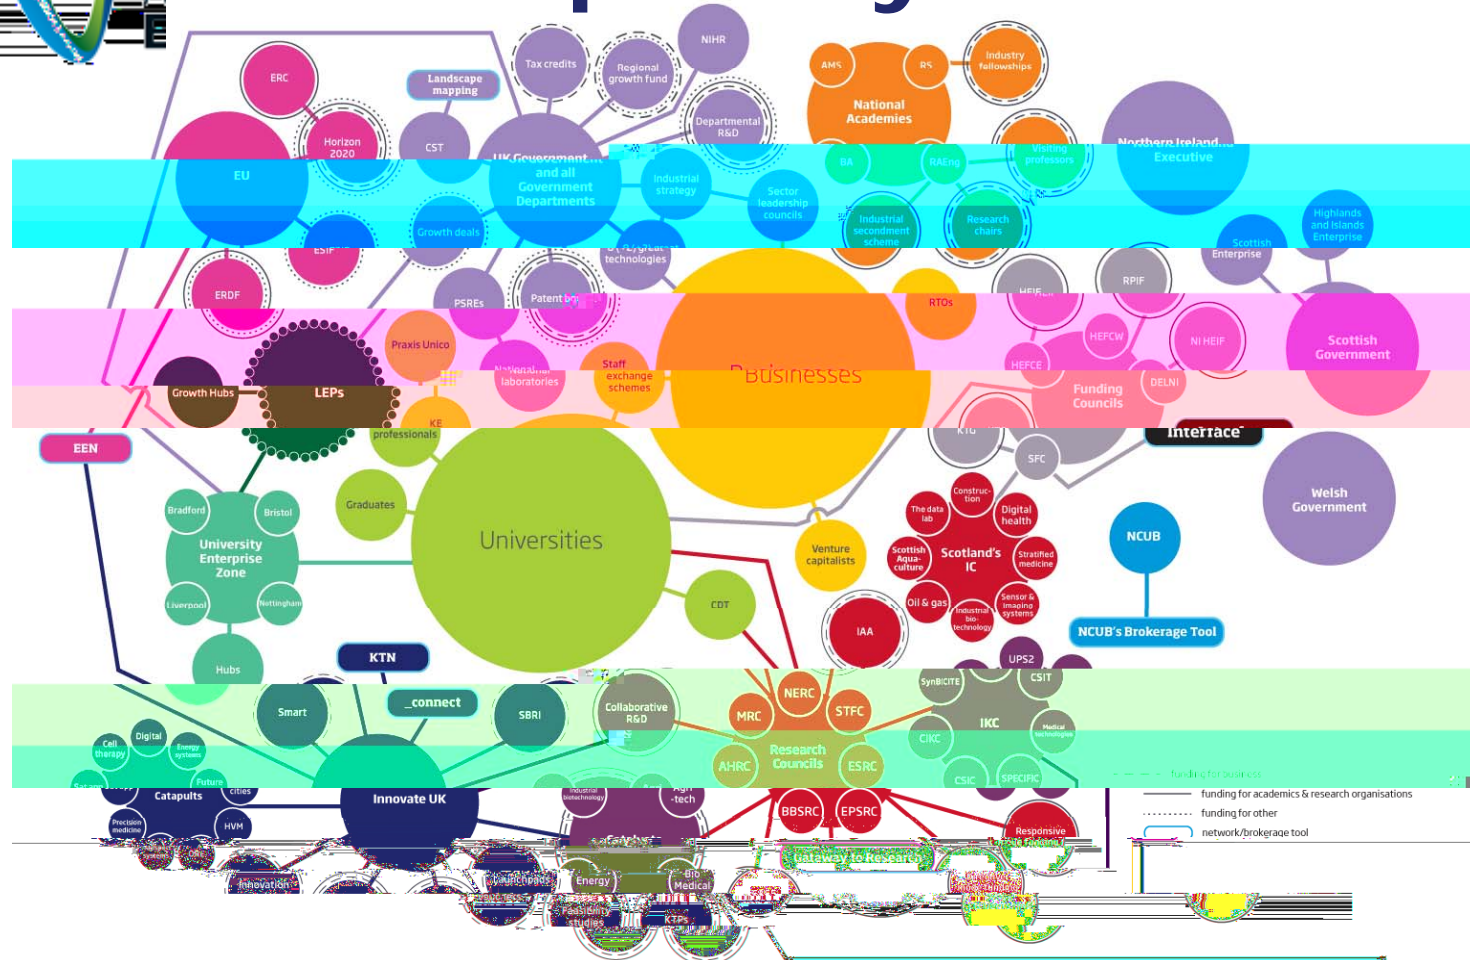

Current state of business-university collaboration in the UK

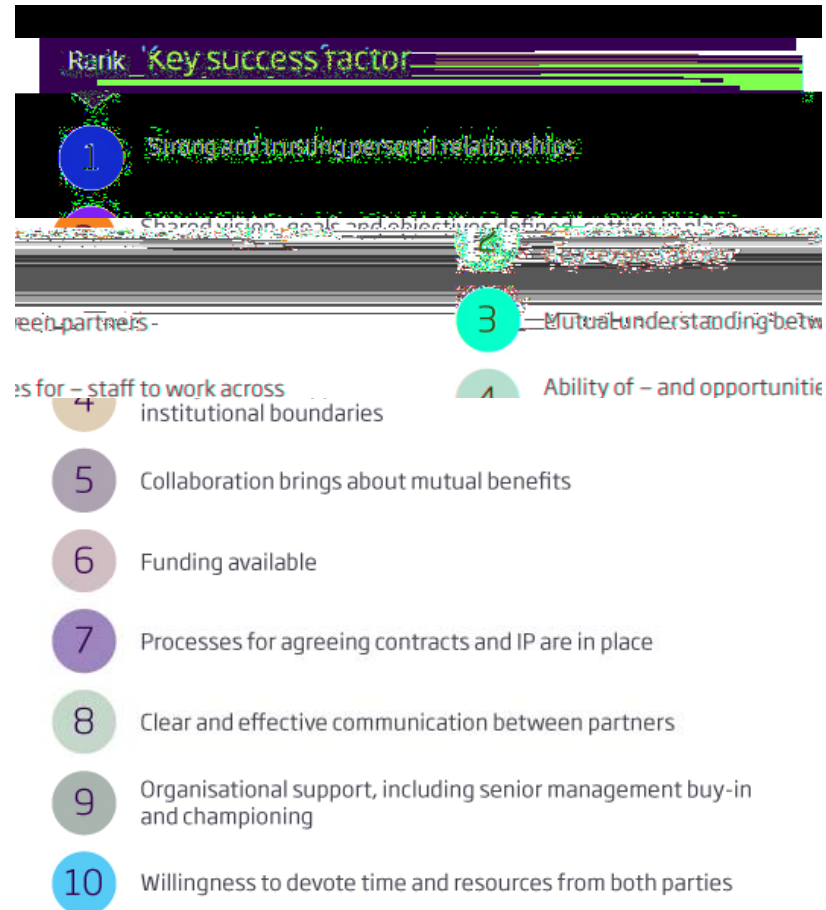

Complexity

People

Brokerage

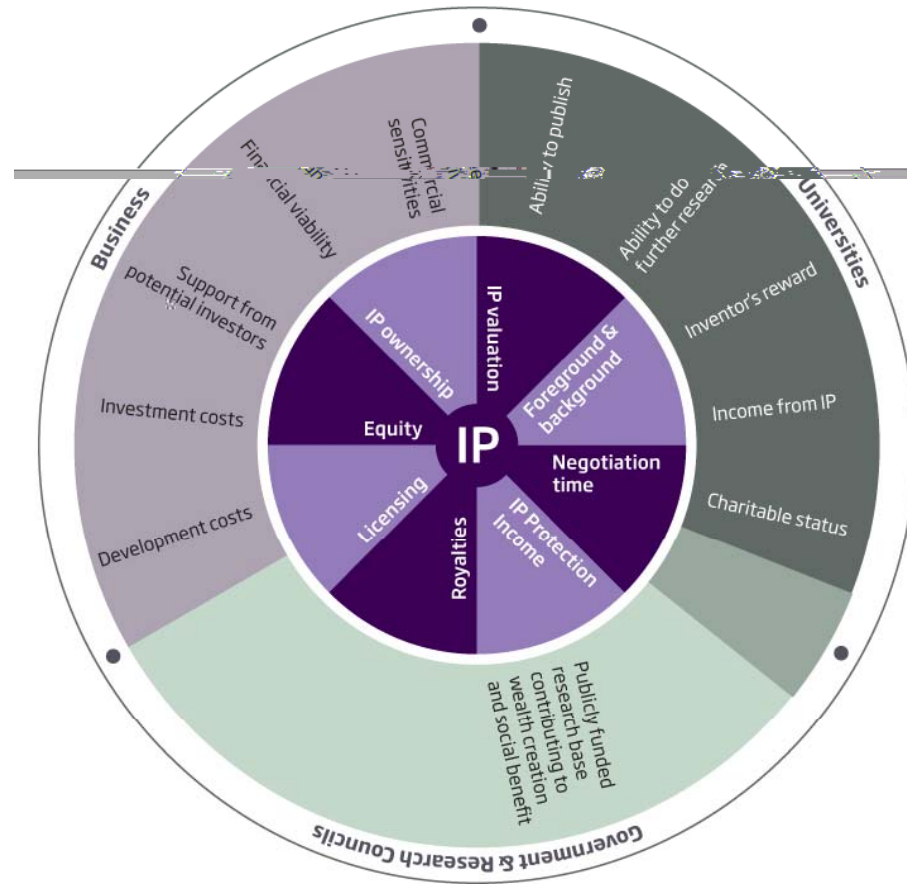

Taken from NCUB's State of the Relationship Report 2015

Growing critical mass

Terms of engagement

Government Strategy

